Israel PM Endorses 2 States

Conditional offer is quickly rejected by the Palestinians

JERUSALEM | Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu endorsed a Palestinian state beside Israel for the first time on Sunday, reversing himself in the face of U.S. pressure but attaching conditions such as demilitarization that the Palestinians swiftly rejected.

A week after President Obama's address to the Muslim world, Netanyahu said the Palestinian state would have to be unarmed and recognize Israel as the Jewish state — a condition amounting to Palestinian refugees' giving up the goal of returning to Israel. With those conditions, he said, he could accept "a demilitarized Palestinian state alongside the Jewish state."

Netanyahu refused to heed the U.S. call for an immediate freeze of construction on lands Palestinians claim for their future state. He also said the holy city of Jerusalem must remain under Israeli sovereignty.

The Palestinian government dismissed the proposal as an attempt to determine the outcome of negotiations while maintaining Israeli settlements, refusing compromise over Jerusalem and ignoring the issue of borders. It also said that demilitarization would solidify Israeli control over the Palestinians. "Netanyahu's speech closed the door to permanent status negotiations," senior Palestinian official Saeb Erekat said. (AP)

CIA Chief Fires Back At Cheney

Panetta: Former VP seems to be 'wishing' for attack in the U.S.

WASHINGTON | CIA Director Leon Panetta says former vice president Dick Cheney's criticism of the Obama administration's approach to terrorism almost suggests "he's wishing that this country would be attacked again, in order to make his point."

Panetta told the New Yorker that Cheney "smells some blood in the water" on the issue of national security.

Cheney has said in several interviews that he thinks President Obama's policies are making the U.S. less safe. When asked whether he agreed with Panetta, Vice President Joe Biden told NBC's "Meet the Press" that he wouldn't question the motive behind Cheney's criticism.

"I think Dick Cheney's judgment about how to secure America is faulty," Biden said. "I think our judgment is correct." (AP)

Biden: Iran Outreach Will Continue

U.S. efforts to engage country in diplomacy muddled by election

WASHINGTON | The re-election of Iran's hard-line president amid charges of ballot fraud has put the Obama administration in a tough spot as it tries to draw theocratic Tehran into nuclear diplomacy without appearing to accept suppression of dissent.

Vice President Joe Biden said Sunday that efforts to engage Tehran, with the central goal of stopping it from getting nuclear weapons, will continue. But the disputed election outcome and the official crackdown on opposition protests appears to be a major setback, at least in the short run, for the new administration, which has made engagement with Iran one of its signature foreign policies.

President Obama already is under renewed political pressure at home to stiffen U.S. policy.

Sen. Joe Lieberman, I-Conn., said Sunday the Iranian rulers had stolen the election and made a mockery of democracy. He urged Iranian President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad appears at a news conference in Tehran, Iran, on Sunday. Ahmadinejad's re-election is being hotly disputed in the country.

Obama to "protest" and to speak out in defense of silenced Iranian demonstrators.

Biden made it clear that the administration, while uncertain of the implications of the announced electoral victory of President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad over his opponent, Mir Hossein Mousavi, has no intention of abandoning its Iran policy. Obama has put Iran at the center of his policy of extending an open hand to adversaries.

Iran's election was widely seen as an important event, but it held out little prospect of bringing substantial change in Iranian foreign policy. The president is Iran's political face to the world, but the clerics and their military wing known as the Revolutionary Guard are the real masters of the country's destiny. They dictate every important policy and decide who is allowed to run for elected office.

"We should be very careful about overreacting to the Iranian election," said Anthony Cordesman, an analyst at the Center for Strategic and International Studies. ROBERT BURNS (AP)

Navajo in Rebuilding Mode

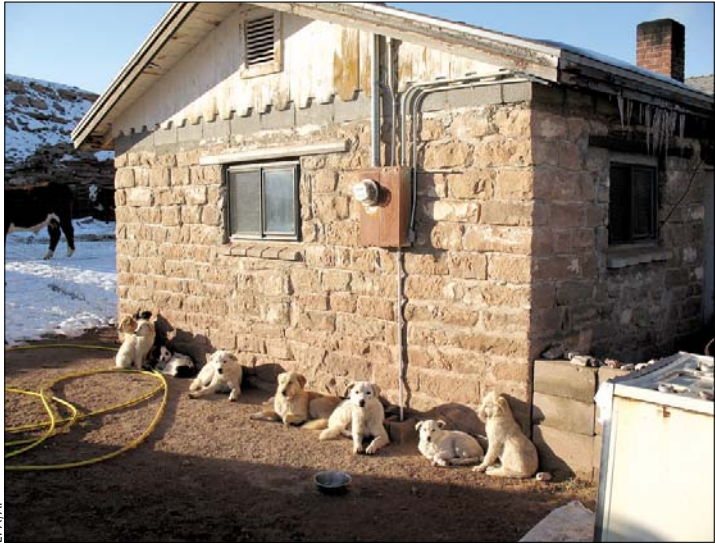

EPA to tear down homes contaminated with deadly uranium

FLAGSTAFF, ARIZ. | The U.S. government plans to spend up to $3 million a year to demolish and rebuild uranium-contaminated structures across the Navajo Nation, where Cold War-era mining of the radioactive substance left a legacy of disease and death.

The U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and its Navajo counterpart are focusing on homes, sheds and other buildings within a half-mile to a mile from a significant mine or waste pile. They plan to assess 500 structures over five years and rebuild those that are badly contaminated.

"These families, with the resources they have, they would not be able to put up a new home for themselves," said Lillie Lane, a spokeswoman for the Navajo Nation Environmental Protection Agency.

Between the 1940s and the 1980s, millions of tons of uranium ore were mined from the 27,000-square-mile reservation that spans Arizona, New Mexico and Utah. Many Navajos, unaware of the dangers of contamination, built their homes with chunks of uranium ore and mill tailings.

This house in the Navajo Nation region of Arizona is contaminated with uranium.

The U.S. EPA estimates it will cost $250,000 to demolish and rebuild each structure. The residents of contaminated homes will not be charged for the work.

The effort is part of a five-year plan in which a number of federal agencies joined together to address uranium contamination. Navajos who toiled in the mines and their dependents have suffered or died from cancer; lung and kidney disease; and other health problems caused by exposure to radiation over time. # Fla. Teen Accused Of Mutilating Cats

More than 2 dozen felines were found dead in Miami area

MIAMI | A South Florida teenager was arrested early Sunday and accused of killing and mutilating his neighbors' cats — a disturbing string of deaths that has horrified residents and shaken animal lovers in two Miami-area communities.

Tyler Hayes Weinman, 18, was taken into custody at a party, police said. He was still being questioned at Miami-Dade police headquarters on Sunday.

"I understand that pet owners feel very strongly about their little family members," Miami-Dade County Commissioner Katy Sorenson said. "Animals bring happiness and comfort to our lives. So, to see them so violated and mutilated just defies all common sense, and it's painful for everyone involved."

Weinman was charged with 19 felony counts of animal cruelty, 19 misdemeanor counts of improperly disposing of an animal body and four felony counts of burglary related to the cat deaths.

In the past month, residents in the Palmetto Bay and Cutler Bay neighborhoods have reported finding more than two dozen cats killed and mutilated. Some of the dead cats were missing fur and appeared to have been cut with a sharp, straight instrument, police said.

"It's shocking to think that someone who lives right here and is our neighbor could do something like this," said Thomas Shad, whose small black cat, Miss Kitty, was among those killed.

Miami-Dade Police Department Maj. Julie Miller said the investigation of the cats' deaths is still open.

Iran's Vote Sparks Fervor, Protests

Opposition battles police as president's backers claim victory

TEHRAN, IRAN | Protesters battled police over Iran's disputed election and shouted their opposition from the rooftops Sunday, but President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad dismissed the unrest as little more than "passions after a soccer match" and drew his own huge rally of support.

After sundown, cries of "death to the dictator" echoed through Tehran as thousands of backers for Ahmadinejad's rival, Mir Hossein Mousavi, heeded a call to bellow from the rooftops and balconies. The deeply symbolic act recalled the shouts of "Allahu Akbar," or "God is great," to show opposition to the Western-backed monarchy before the 1979 Islamic Revolution.

The scenes summed up the showdown over the disputed elections: an outwardly confident Ahmadinejad exerted control, while Mousavi showed no sign of backing down.

His charges that Friday's vote was riddled by fraud brought sympathetic statements from Vice President Joe Biden and other leaders. Mousavi made a direct appeal with Iran's ruling clerics to annul the result, but the chances were considered remote.

The struggle Sunday on the streets was the worst unrest in Tehran since protests 10 years ago.

But by mid-afternoon, tens of thousands of Ahmadinejad supporters filled Vali Asr Street — the same place a massive pre-election rally was held by Mousavi last week. Ahmadinejad's forces waved Iranian flags and green Islamic banners — an obvious response to Mousavi's campaign that adopted green as its color. ANNA JOHNSON (AP)

IRAN'S TUMULTUOUS WEEKEND

Election results:

SATURDAY Iran says President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad wins with 62.6 percent of votes — compared to Mir Hossein Mousavi's 33.75 percent. The opposition launches protests.

saturday

→ THROUGHOUT THE DAY Thousands of protest election results in Tehran, clashing with police, and setting trash cans and tires ablaze. Activists say police storm offices of leading reformist party, arresting leaders.

→ EVENING Mousavi's Twitter account says he has been put under house arrest. Mousavi says results are fraudulent, in a letter to Iran's Guardian Council posted online.

sunday

→ AFTER MIDNIGHT Central Tehran appears calmer, but large groups of riot police patrol streets.

→ MORNING Iran restores cell phone service that was disrupted over the weekend; Web sites that were blocked are still inaccessible.

→ THROUGHOUT THE DAY Unrest continues in Tehran. Reports that Mousavi is under house arrest can't be confirmed. At a rally, Ahmadinejad denies vote-fixing. (EXPRESS)

friday

→ 8 A.M. Polls open. Due to a record turnout of 86 percent of 46.2 million eligible voters, polls stay open until midnight.

→ EVENING Both Ahmadinejad and Mousavi claim victory. At a press conference, Mousavi declares he is "definitely the winner" based on "all indications from all over Iran." Moments later, Iranian state media declare Ahmadinejad the winner.

ClearChoice Dental Implant Center

"I went to ClearChoice in the morning with missing teeth and I left that afternoon with Dental Implants and a full set of great looking, fully functioning teeth. It all happened in one day!"

"I was impressed by the technology at ClearChoice. They had a 3D CAT Scan that showed where to place the Dental Implants while avoiding the nerves, and without any bone grafts. They even had equipment to make my Beautiful New Teeth at the same location!"

ClearChoice Changed Their Lives in Just ONE Appointment!*

Dental Implants Are the Closest Thing to Natural Teeth

Dental Implants are small titanium screws that function much like the roots of natural teeth. They support fixed replacements for one tooth, several teeth, or even a full set of teeth. With Implant-supported dental restorations, you can chew with the power of natural teeth and slow down the facial aging process.

No More Dentures

Fed up with messy creams and adhesives or plastic in your mouth? Dentures inhibit an active lifestyle and can greatly affect self-confidence. They also provide no support within the jaw, resulting in deterioration and shrinkage of the jaw bone, often causing pain, discomfort, loss of chewing ability, and resulting in significant facial aging. ClearChoice can change all that.

No More Bridges

Bridges are a three-tooth solution for a one-tooth problem. Healthy teeth must be filed down just to support the bridge. Bridges also take a pounding as you chew, limiting their lifespan.

ClearChoice can help to avoid that. Dental Implants are the modern solution for missing teeth, and can eliminate most of the problems associated with bridges. Dental Implants are as close to natural teeth as you can get and can last a lifetime.

Implants & New Teeth

All in One Appointment***

- Oral Surgeons to place the Implants. Oral surgeons are trained in surgery and anesthesia, so ClearChoice patients have anesthesia options.

- Prosthodontists to replace your missing teeth. Prosthodontists are dentists with advanced education and training in the planning and restoration of missing teeth.

- Experienced Dental Implant Lab Technicians to custom design and precisely make your new teeth.

N. Korea Threatens War

South Korean officials to deal 'squarely' with vows of a showdown

SEOUL, SOUTH KOREA | South Korea's president ordered his top security officials Sunday to deal "resolutely and squarely" with new North Korean warnings of a nuclear war on the eve of his U.S. visit. In Washington, Vice President Joe Biden said, "God only knows" what North Korea wants from the latest showdown.

President Lee Myung-bak travels to Washington on Monday for talks with President Obama that are expected to focus on the North's rogue nuclear and missile programs.

The trip comes after North Korea's Foreign Ministry threatened war with any country that stops its ships on the high seas under new sanctions approved by the U.N. Security Council in response to its May 25 nuclear test.

It also vowed Saturday to "weaponize" all its plutonium and acknowledged a long-suspected uranium enrichment program for the first time. Both plutonium and uranium are key ingredients of atomic bombs.

A commentary published Saturday in the North's state-run Tongil Sinbo weekly claimed the U.S. was deploying a vast number of nuclear weapons in South Korea and Japan.

North Korea "is completely within the range of U.S. nuclear attack, and the Korean peninsula is becoming an area where the chances of a nuclear war are the highest in the world," it said.

Kim Yong-kyu, a spokesman at the U.S. military command in Seoul, denied the allegation, saying the U.S. no longer has nuclear bombs in South Korea. U.S. tactical nuclear weapons were removed from South Korea in 1991 as part of arms reductions after the Cold War. VIJAY JOSHI (AP)

Pakistan Boosts Offensive

Military pursues top Taliban commander in northwest region

DERA ISMAIL KHAN, PAKISTAN | Pakistan said it will pursue an army operation against the country's top Taliban commander, a feared militant based in a tribal region along the Afghan border where a suspected U.S. missile strike killed five people Sunday.

The announcement came as violence raged in other parts of the volatile northwest. A bombing at a market killed at least nine people, while officials said clashes between the Taliban and security forces killed at least 20 militants in a tribal area supposedly cleared of insurgents months ago.

Over the past month and a half, as Pakistan has pursued an offensive against militants in the Swat

CRUCIAL WAR ZONE

→ South Waziristan, a rugged, remote region, has not only been a Taliban hideout but also a base for al-Qaeda and a rumored home of Osama bin Laden.

Valley, rumors have swirled that it had plans to target the country's Taliban commander, Baitullah

Mehsud, in South Waziristan.

Late Sunday, the governor of North West Frontier Province said in Islamabad the decision had been made to "take army action against terrorists in Waziristan."

Owais Ghani did not specify an exact start date but implied that the offensive had already begun.

Money

LUKIT WONG/AP FILE

Many golf courses are slashing prices to attract new players amid the recession.

There's Room On the Fairway

Taking up golf isn't nearly as expensive, or as intimidating, as you might imagine

NEW YORK | Golfing isn't just for the rich anymore.

To attract players amid the recession, public courses and even high-end resorts across the country are offering discounts on green fees. And club brands such as Callaway and TaylorMade are slashing prices on equipment.

Here's how you can avoid golf's biggest money pitfalls and try your hand on the links.

Buy a Starter Set

The options for affordable equipment have multiplied dramatically in recent years. A quality box set — which usually includes a set of clubs and a bag — will cost between $99 and $399, said the PGA's Leigh Bader.

In the past, clubs from such sets were of lesser quality and might have cracked when swung with too much force. Now clubs from one of these sets should last as long you play the game, Bader said.

Learn for Less

As much as you might aspire to be like Tiger Woods, you don't have to break the bank to practice your swing. A bucket of balls at a driving range typically costs between $5 and $10, said Dave Dusek, deputy editor of Golf.com.

If you're looking for hands-on instruction, consider the Get Golf Ready program, which costs $99 for five lessons from a PGA or LPGA professional.

Go Public

The median green fee with cart at 18-hole public courses is $42, according to the National Golf Foundation. But not all facilities require carts, and most offer nine-hole games at about half the rate.

As part of the PGA's Play Golf America campaign, facilities across the country are offering free clinics and other programs on select days. CANDICE CHOI (AP)

Chilis, Chorizo, Queso y Mucho Más

Stores are adapting their food offerings to serve the growing Latino population

TRENDS | After moving to the U.S. 10 years ago, Juana Carabarin still wanted to cook Mexican food for her family but often didn't have time to go to specialty shops for the ingredients.

Now the Publix grocery in Norcross, Ga., near her home carries products used in Mexican cuisine — including corn husks for tamales, chilis in the spice aisle, chorizo and queso fresco in the refrigerator case and some branded items.

Major chains are expanding their specialty offerings to capture business from Latinos, the country's fastest-growing population.

mercados — a test format aimed at Hispanic shoppers. Lakeland, Fla.-based Publix recently began expanding its Latino offerings to its stores across the country.

Developing new stores or venturing into new markets may seem like a dicey proposition during a recession, but a recent U.S. Census report shows the Latino population grew 3.2 percent between 2007 and 2008. Better serving a rapidly growing population could pay off well for retailers.

While some grocers still contain their Latino offerings to an "ethnic" aisle, some experts say the popularity of these products among Latino and other consumers merits more attention.

"I think there is an increase in appetite across the board for more international experiences, particularly in Hispanic grocery," said Stephen Palacios, executive vice president at consulting company Cheskin Added Value. "The ethnic-specific aisle is eventually going to evolve into everybody's aisle." SARAH SKIDMORE (AP)

Alleged Shooter's Son Apologizes

Younger von Brunn says father's bigotry burdened his family

Erik von Brunn, the son of James von Brunn, said Sunday his father, who is accused of killing a security guard at the U.S. Holocaust Memorial Museum, had long burdened his family with his white supremacist views and that he wishes his father had been the one killed in the shooting instead.

James von Brunn, 88, has been charged with first-degree murder in the death of 39-year-old Stephen T. Johns, who was black.

"I cannot express enough how deeply sorry I am it was Mr. Johns, and not my father, who lost [his] life," Erik von Brunn, 32, said in a statement to ABC News.

"It was unjustified and unfair that he died, and while my condolences could never begin to offer appeasement, they, along with my remorse, is all I have to give."

Authorities say James von Brunn shot the security guard in the chest with a vintage rifle after Johns opened the door for him. James von Brunn was shot in the face by guards and is expected to survive.

"His views consumed him, and in doing so, not only destroyed his life, but destroyed our family and ruined our lives as well," Erik von Brunn's said.

Erik von Brunn said he never imagined that his father would take a life. "The man is 88 years old. I never would have thought he could do this," he said. "It really hasn't sunk in yet." (AP)

Pr. George's Investigates Jail Attack

UPPER MARLBORO, MD. | Prince George's County officials are investigating an attack against an inmate at the county jail earlier this month.

Nineteen-year-old DeAndre Wilson told his attorney that he was dragged out of his cell June 6 and badly beaten by another inmate. Wilson is serving an 18-month sentence for an armed robbery conviction.

County public safety director Vernon Herron says the attacker, Jermain Williams, was out of his cell for recreation hour. Herron says a jail guard, who was assigned to oversee access to the cellblock and cells, told officials that he "inadvertently" opened Wilson's cell.

Herron says Williams entered the cell and assaulted Wilson. He calls the incident "inexcusable" and says it's under investigation. (AP)

Unlucky Hop Leads to Nats Loss

Rays cap comeback, series sweep with an ‘unusual’ hit in 8th

NATIONALS | The Tampa Bay Rays gladly took a break.

Pinch hitter Willy Aybar got a lucky bounce, doubling off the third base bag in the eighth inning, and the Rays completed a sweep of the Washington Nationals with a 5-4 victory on Sunday.

“It’s unusual to see that. I’ll take it,” manager Joe Maddon said after Tampa Bay’s fifth-straight win.

Carlos Pena opened the eighth with a double off Ron Villone (3-3). After Ben Zobrist struck out, Aybar hit a ball down the line that nicked the bag and angled away from third baseman Willie Harris into left field for the go-ahead hit.

“I think he would have made that play easy,” Pena said. “I had to freeze, then I saw the ball take a weird hop.”

Said Washington manager Manny Acta: “I think what preceded that was more important than complaining about breaks.”

Manny Acta looks on in what might be his final game as Nationals manager on Sunday. Washington lost 5-4 in Tampa Fla.

Tampa Bay, which was down 4-0, tied it at 4 on Gabe Kapler’s two-run homer in the sixth. It was Kapler’s third-straight game with a homer. Dan Wheeler (2-1) worked a perfect eighth, and J.P. Howell pitched the ninth for the save.

Alberto Gonzalez drove in three runs for the Nationals, who have lost 15 of 18. Washington has been swept in seven series this year.

“We win as a team, and we lose as a team,” Acta said. “We haven’t played the way we were expected to play. We’re all accountable for what’s going on.” (AP)

Hot Offense Key to Orioles Victory

Wigginton homers twice, Andino steals home against Braves

ORIOLES | The Baltimore Orioles’ offense is suddenly on a roll.

After scoring 19 runs in its previous 11 games, Baltimore has scored as many in the past two. On Sunday, Ty Wigginton hit two home runs, Robert Andino drove in three runs and stole home, and Brad Bergesen pitched his first complete game to lead the Orioles to an 11-2 win over the Atlanta Braves.

“Today everybody came to the ballpark with a carry-over, a lot of confidence,” Orioles manager Dave Trembley said.

The offensive revival came from some unlikely sources. Andino, who is replacing Cesar Izturis due to his recent appendectomy, pulled off Baltimore’s first steal of home since May 23, 2007.

In the second inning, with the Orioles ahead 4-0, Brian Roberts was caught off first. Atlanta’s shortstop, Yunel Escobar, was about to tag Roberts, but belatedly he saw Andino dash for home. Andino easily beat the throw.

Trembley wouldn’t confirm whether the play was planned, but Andino said it wasn’t.

“That just happened. It made it look like a play. Secret play,” Andino said. (AP)

Rookie Is LPGA Champion

Nordqvist finishes long day at minus-15 for her 1st career title

LPGA CHAMPIONSHIP | Anna Nordqvist completed a long day and a memorable week in splendid fashion, shooting a 4-under par 68 Sunday to become the second-straight rookie to win the LPGA Championship.

Nordqvist finished at 15-under 273, four shots ahead of Lindsey Wright in the tournament's final stand at Bulle Rock Golf Course in Havre de Grace, Md. The LPGA Championship will get a new sponsor and a new home in 2010.

ANDY LYONS/GETTY IMAGES

Nordqvist became the second-straight rookie to win the LPGA Championship.

After letting a five-shot lead dwindle to one, Nordqvist sank a 12-foot birdie putt on No. 14 and essentially clinched her first career victory with a 35-foot putt for a birdie on No. 15. When the shot dropped into the cup, the 22-year-old Swede pumped her fist with delight.

Nordqvist completed the final four holes of the suspended third round at 7:30 in the morning, then teed off as part of the final two-shot shortly after 2:30 p.m. She took a two-shot lead into the fourth round, quickly increased the margin and held on to earn the $300,000 top prize.

Nordqvist's victory follows that of Yani Tseng, who won as a rookie in 2008 at Bulle Rock. Tseng tied for 23rd in this tournament. DAVID GINSBURG (AP)

Jimmie Johnson dominated most of the LifeLock 400 Sunday and took the lead from Greg Biffle six laps from the end as Martin watched from third place.

Johnson, the three-time reigning Cup champion, ran out of gas two laps from the finish, giving the lead to Biffle. But he also ran out of gas as the final trip around the 2-mile oval began, clearing the way for the 50-year-old Martin. His

Revenge on Italians' Minds

U.S. faces World Cup champs who are still bitter over 1-1 draw

SOCCER | Italy will be out for more than just revenge against the United States on Monday in both teams' Confederations Cup opener.

Three years ago at the World Cup, a 1-1 draw with the Americans was the only blemish on the Azzurri's otherwise perfect run in Germany.

"This is the most important match," said Italy coach Marcello Lippi, who stepped down after the World Cup victory only to return last year. "We've got to beat the United States because if the first game goes well, then so will the following games. Whereas if it goes badly, it will be tougher for us to recover."

Lippi's lineup will likely contain nine members of the World Cup side, including midfielder Daniele De Rossi, whose elbow that bloodied the face of U.S. forward Brian McBride was the lasting image of the 2006 clash. The incident cost De Rossi a four-game ban.

RESEARCH

2009 - 2010 Research Fellowship Program

Description:

The U.S. Commission on International Religious Freedom (USCIRF) is proud to announce the establishment of the Joseph R. Crapa Fellowship Program in memory of Joe Crapa, who served as Executive Director of USCIRF from 2002-2007. The term of each fellowship will be determined by the nature of the fellow's project, but will not exceed 12 months. It is expected that fellows will spend a substantial portion of their fellowship in residence at the USCIRF offices in Washington, DC, though alternate arrangements may be made as necessary.

Qualifications:

The funded fellowships are available to select individuals with exceptional records of accomplishment and/or outstanding records of academic achievement in relevant fields to the work of the Commission, including but not limited to, human rights, foreign policy, international law, and security. Applicants from the Hill, government agencies (including the military and intelligence agencies), academia, the NGO community, think tanks, and other relevant backgrounds are welcome.

Applicants for a Crapa Fellowship should submit a proposal detailing the parameters of the project they intend to pursue during their time as a Crapa Fellow. This proposal should include a succinct statement of the area of intended study, the relevance of the study to the field of religious freedom, the format and timing of the product they propose to produce, and a brief overview of relevant existing work in the area of proposed study. In addition, applicants should send a cover letter, resume, writing sample, and the names of three professional references the Commission can contact directly. Applications are due by July 13, 2009.

The following list provides examples of the areas the Commission is interested in further study on, but is not intended to be exhaustive:

- The role of religion and religious freedom in counterinsurgencies and in combating religious extremism
- The developing parameters of religious freedom under international law, including an analysis of significant trends and strategies to impact the development in positive directions
- The impact of religious freedom in advancing the rights of women
- Government-sponsored intolerant materials and its impact on religious freedom
- Utilizing U.S. assistance effectively to promote and advance religious freedom
- Employing public diplomacy tools to advance religious freedom
- Developing a curriculum on religion and religious freedom for the Foreign Service Institute

Contact:

Applications should be submitted electronically to: crapafellows@uscirf.gov

Depressed?

NIMH is conducting two research studies to look at how a currently FDA-approved drug, Scopolamine, which is used for motion sickness, can help with depression. In one study, the drug is given intravenously over 7-sessions and in the other study, it is given by patch over 12-sessions.

Both outpatient research studies are conducted at the NIH Clinical Center in Bethesda, MD.

NIMH is seeking Participants:

- Ages 18-50
- Currently depressed
- Not taking medications for at least 3 weeks

'Far' Draws Them Closer

Regina Spektor's new album will lure mainstream listeners while pleasing fans

MUSIC | Regina Spektor is in London, standing near the Thames River and the London Eye Ferris wheel, looking down over Big Ben and Westminster Bridge. "You're getting the most picturesque view ever, in any interview I've done," she says. "It's just beautiful." It's Spektor's day off — kind of — from a U.K. press tour to promote her new record.

With the June 23 release of her fifth album, "Far," the 29-year-old is seeking to build beyond the cult fan base already smitten with her piano-driven pop. She self-released her first three albums from 2001 to 2003, but it was the 2004 studio reissue of her third album, "Soviet Kitsch," and 2006's "Begin to Hope" that helped the songstress make her mark.

To date, the mainstream knows Spektor best from the appearances her songs have made in film and TV — everything from shows such as "CSI: NY," and "Grey's Anatomy" to commercials for XM Satellite Radio and J.C. Penney.

The entire album will be streamed through multiple partners a week or two before release. It's a way to placate the demand from Spektor's overenthusiastic fans — who have been known to hack into computer systems to get unreleased music — while broadening the album's reach for those still unfamiliar with her.

Spektor worked with four producers on the album. She compares the process to going to college: "I almost feel like, 'Well, I might as well have a few professors instead of just one,'" she says. "And so that's sort of how it happened, my desire to be, like, 'Well, I could do a few songs with different people and then I'll get to learn their different styles and kind of experience it that way.'"

Ultimately, "Far" plays much

"I almost felt like, 'Well, I might as well have a few professors instead of just one.'"

like typical Spektor: sunny piano, whimsical lyrics and off-kilter vocal quirks mixed with several more accessible and radio-ready numbers. Throughout the album she sings about people's relationship with God ("Laughing With"), tells the story of tracking down the owner of a lost wallet ("The Wallet") and shows off her best dolphin impression ("The Folding Chair").

The week of the album's release, Spektor will perform on "Late Show With David Letterman" and "Good Morning America." While those types of mainstream outlets will bring new listeners, it's the longtime, dedicated fans — those who love Spektor's quirk — who are responsible for the initial buzz. Nurse Jackie's edgy, but is she realistic?

Naughty TV Nurse Vexes Pros

Showtime's portrayal of the profession not true to life, some say

TV | Edie Falco's star character in Showtime's "Nurse Jackie" snorts drugs, steals money, forges an organ donor's card, has sex on the job with a pharmacist and flushes a severed body part down the toilet — and that's just in the first episode.

It's little wonder that some real-life nurses are distressed by the new series. After one of three screenings of the show that Showtime held for nurses before the debut, the first thing Barbara Crane said was how appalled she was.

"I don't know what they wanted from us," said Crane, president of the National Federation of Nurses. "I have no clue what the screening was supposed to be about," she said. "They couldn't think that those of us in the most ethical profession — and we are the most ethical profession — that we could possibly find that entertaining."

BOX OFFICE Hanging On The Warner Bros. comedy "The Hangover," starring Bradley Cooper, hauled in $33.4 million to remain the top box-office draw for a second-straight weekend, according to studio estimates Sunday. The tale of a Vegas bachelor party gone to extremes raised its total to $105.4 million after 10 days in theaters. It's the summer's first movie to finish at No. 1 two weekends in a row. Disney's latest Pixar Animation hit, "Up," came in a close second again with $30.5 million. That lifts the acclaimed animated film's total to $187.2 million. (AP)

Pride of Plays

For the next few weeks, Ganymede Arts will be producing readings of landmark GLBT plays. Tonight, you can see "Bent" in the backroom of Miss Pixie's. Be warned: The play is intense and wrenching — it's about the persecution of gays in Germany during the Third Reich. The readings continue every Monday night in various locations through the end of June. F.Z.

3 Country Unplugged

Vince Gill does the kind of country music that's fueled by a sappy, love-struck wonder rather than the kind fueled by rye whiskey and a love of trucks. It seems to be in demand, though — he's in the Country Music Hall of Fame. He'll be doing an acoustic show at the Birchmere, so grab your big hat and your heartache and go. F.Z.

2 Island Ritual

If you've never seen a Mike Daisey monologue, you don't know what you're missing. He's smart, eloquent and interested in the world around him — all the elements that make a great writer. This time around, he's tackled "cargo cults" — if you don't know what they are, go to Wikipedia. It will blow your tiny mind. Daisey's show will have a longer run this winter, but the sneak preview is tonight. F.Z.

To Arlington, With Love

YouTube phenom Remy celebrates his yuppie home in rap

If you have a Twitter feed or a Facebook page or a Gmail account, you've probably already seen it: The rap lauding 28-year-old Remy Munasifi's Starbucks-laden, Whole Foods-hoppin' hood. "Arlington: The Rap" jumped from 300 to 30,000 YouTube views in less than a day after it was posted last week. We caught up with Munasifi to quiz him on his Clarendon street cred.

Remy Munasifi introduced himself to Clarendon with "Arlington: The Rap."

Any Arlington corridor haunts we could find you at?

I'm still trying to find my way around. I went and ate at 3 last night. I like that place. I like the rooftop at the [Clarendon] Ballroom.

Yeah, that's thug life at the Clarendon Ballroom.

I saw some dude with a Smirnoff Ice who was looking like he was going to start something, but, fortunately they calmed him down.

KRIS CORONADO (EXPRESS)

What makes Arlington so hard-core?

It's populated by straight-up thugs. Really, seersucker is a fabric, but it's really a fabric that holds the town together. I was on the Metro and I saw a guy with brown flip-flops and seersucker shorts and I said, "Yes! This is a video that needs to be made."

Where did the idea come from?

I just moved [to Clarendon from

McLean] a few weeks ago, and I thought that would be kinda cool to introduce everybody to my new 'hood.

When did you shoot "Arlington"? You had the new Walgreens in there.

Good call. That was on Saturday. I was running around Wilson [Boulevard], got a lot of weird looks. I actually got an e-mail today from a guy who said, "I saw you running around Whole Foods crouched up

DAVID GOLDMAN/AP

A Smooth Conversion

Switch from analog to digital TV goes off without major issues

Almost all analog television broadcasts ended Friday, but the world refrained from following suit.

No crowds rioted in the streets. As far as we know, nobody lit any analog sets on fire in protest. The Republic still stands.

As self-inflicted technological crises go, this wasn't even close to Y2K.

What did happen: People who had waited until the final days, then hours, had a predictably hard time figuring out this digital-TV thing. Some called local broadcasters for help to tune their signals — WTTG (Channel 5) told The Washington Post's Paul Farhi that it received 162 calls in the two hours after it shut off its analog signal at noon, while WRC (Channel 4) had only 75 calls to its help line between 5 a.m. and 5:45 p.m.

Others looked to the Feds for help. By 2 p.m. Friday, the Federal Communications Commission had received almost a half-million phone calls on its DTV line.

The FCC reported that most of these calls involved setup issues or tuning problems that could be fixed by having a TV or converter box rescan the airwaves for new digital-TV channels.

We probably have more unpleasant surprises waiting; many people may not realize how many ways they tune into TV.

I never would have guessed how many people listen to the audio of local broadcasts on radios with TV-band tuners — a pastime now impossible, at least until somebody ships a radio with a digital-TV tuner.

But considering the magnitude of the DTV transition — an estimated 2.8 million people were said to be unprepared for the switch — Friday's non-chaos must count as a victory.

DISCUSSIONS

FAST FORWARD

Given that I have FiOS HD cable, I haven't concerned myself with this, but this week my "non-HD" channels (Style, Fine Living) have not been working properly — is this related to the switch?

Nope, there's no connection there. Everybody repeat after me: Any changes you might see in your cable, satellite or fiber service have nothing to do with the over-the-air DTV switch. (No matter what some clueless customer-service rep might tell you if you call to ask about it.)

Any changes you see in your cable [service] ... have nothing to do with the ... DTV switch.

In what sense is digital TV digital? The electromagnetic waves that carry the digital TV signal vary smoothly in time and space — that is, they are analog, not digital.

It's how the information goes across the airwaves (the "transport layer," if I'm remembering my networking jargon correctly). In digital, you encode the signal as a stream of ones and zeroes instead of as a linear representation — same basic difference between storing music on a CD and on vinyl.

Rob, what can you suggest when looking for a digital antenna? Do I really need to spend $60 for one?

Absolutely not — certainly not that close to D.C. I've seen people report excellent results with $12 antennas; a lady in Reston e-mailed to say that a $20 Radio Shack indoor model has been working fairly well for her.

B.I.O.

BY INVITATION ONLY: UPCOMING WEDDINGS & UNIONS

Brian Eccles, Kathleen Heesch

Brian, 29, is an aerospace engineer. Kathleen, 29, is a foreign affairs specialist. They live in Arlington.

- The Main Event: On June 20 in a full Mass with 150 guests at a church in Northwest D.C.
- Honeymoon: A 10-day trip through Thailand and Cambodia.
- How They Met: As freshmen at the University of Southern California, where she noticed a Detroit Red Wings drawing on a whiteboard outside a dorm room.

"I popped my head in to see who the fan was." The fan was Brian's roommate, but Brian was "much cuter."

■ First Date: He asked her to accompany him to a fraternity event. "I didn't realize it was a 'date,'" she said. "I didn't want to ruin the friendship, but he totally won me over."

■ How He Proposed: At the Tidal Basin after margaritas at Ceiba. "Once we got to the Tidal Basin, she got a little distracted by a baby duck. I was finally able to convince her to leave the duck." That's when he popped the question.

■ Wedding Jitters: She says: "That I'll get something on the dress before Brian gets to see it." He says: "Definitely a zombie attack."

■ Making It Unique: "We're not having a silly unity candle," Brian says.

"Once we got to the Tidal Basin, she got a little distracted by a baby duck."

Kevin Groves, Tia Rush

Kevin, 29, is a consultant. Tia, 28, is a program analyst. They live in Alexandria.

■ The Main Event: A formal June 21 affair with 180 guests. Tia will walk down the aisle to "So Amazing" covered by Beyonce and Stevie Wonder.

■ Honeymoon: Los Cabos, Mexico.

■ How They Met: They attended the same college but didn't speak until they "met" on a social networking site over summer break. "When school started again in the fall, we were pretty much inseparable," Tia says.

■ First Date: They got drive-thru KFC and watched an Eddie Murphy stand-up routine on DVD. "It was perfect because we were both able to relax and laugh," she says.

■ How He Proposed: He put the ring inside a digital camera box and gave her the present over dinner. "She opened the camera box and began digging through the packaging looking for the camera, oblivious to the ring box sitting right in front of her. She looked at me asking where the camera was."

■ Most Hated Clothing Item: He dislikes her SpongeBob pajamas; she "can't stand to even look at his basketball jersey from high school."

■ Pet Names: He's "Papi"; she's "Baby."

■ When She Knew: After she had a bad day at work, he had roses delivered to her house.

In Perfect Harmony

Both LAUREN DEFRANCO and ALEX CHRISTIAN had had it up to here with their accounts on eHarmony.com. When he signed on to cancel his, he noticed her profile, sent her a message containing his personal e-mail address, and then canceled his account. They e-mailed for weeks before meeting up at a pizza place in Scottsdale, Ariz. "This is someone I could spend the rest of my life with," Alex remembers thinking after that first date. "I knew he was 'the one,'" Lauren says.

When he eventually popped the question, Lauren knew what was coming. "I was reading B.I.O. on the Metro and got a strong feeling he was going to propose. When Alex walked in the door [later], we were both grinning."

Lauren, 27, is a PR professional. Alex, 27, is a business analyst. They'll marry June 27 at a Northern Virginia vineyard.

gala, where he flirted with her even though he thought she'd come with someone else. When they next met a few months later, "I made sure to show her I could also behave like an adult," he says.

■ First Impressions: "I thought he was obnoxious but that he would be a great salesperson for the company that I had just launched."

■ First Date: Depending on who you ask, either a museum visit in Chicago or dinner four days later.

■ How He Proposed: She surprised him with a trip to Paris for his birthday, and he surprised her by proposing in front of the Sacre Coeur church, one of her favorite places.

■ When She Knew: When she walked 40 miles as part of a two-day walkathon and "he took care of my blisters, the pain, everything. He created a triage room in my spare bedroom."

■ Their Song: Doug confesses to liking "What a Wonderful World" by Louis Armstrong.

■ With Unlimited Funds: She says: "Maybe hire the Gipsy Kings to play live and a tequila ice luge!"

Getting Married?

MICHAEL PHELPS has a new book in stores titled "How to Train with a T. Rex and Win 8 Gold Medals." In the book, Phelps describes his training regimen in terms relatable to kids. For example, during six years of training, he swam 12,480 miles. He points out that's the same as swimming "from ... Baltimore to the North Pole and back, and doing it all over again!" (AP)
